APRIL 8: TEHRAN

• After, drive to northern Tehran to explore the Iranian Film Museum located in the beautiful Ferdowsi Garden. This little-visited museum focuses on Iran’s contribution – at home and abroad – to the world of cinema and houses an extensive collection in a beautiful historical building. Enjoy lunch at a delightful cafe in the museum.

• This evening enjoy a reception with various artists followed by a dinner with Nazila Noebashari, owner of Aaran Gallery - one of Tehran’s most important contemporary art galleries – who will meet you and talk more about contemporary art in Tehran.

APRIL 9: KASHAN

• Depart this morning for Kashan, a drive of about three hours.

• Stop along the way at the historical Garden of Fin, which was first planted during the Safavid period and kept alive with water from the nearby Sulaimanieh Spring. This beautiful garden was expanded by the Zand and Qajar monarchs, with many open pavilions added.

• Arrive in Kashan and transfer to the Manouchehri House for lunch and overnight. The hotel, which was initially a private home, has been lovingly restored and offers a wonderful opportunity to spend a night in a traditional home.

• Continue on to Noushabad, a handmade underground city at a depth of 15 to 60 feet. The city, a masterpiece of ancient architecture, consists of many labyrinth corridors, rooms and wells that can be reached from any location in the city without being seen.

• End the day at the historic Kashan Bazaar, the center of trade in the city for almost 800 years. The Khan Amin al-Dowleh Timche, a caravanserai with a magnificent decorated dome, is a wonderful place to sit with a cup of tea and people-watch. Be sure to purchase a bag of Kashani cookies from one of the many patisseries - the coconut macaroons (nargili) are absolutely delicious!
APRIL 10: ISFAHAN  B, L, D

- Begin this morning by learning more about the project to revive the traditional textiles that Kashan is known for. Saba Manouchehri, owner of the Manouchehri House, has started this project and artisans are working in the actual hotel. We will meet them in their workshop at the hotel and learn about the project. Continue on to visit the Tabatabei House, a traditional house built in the early 1880’s, which is renowned for its mirror and stained-glass work.

- After lunch drive about 3 hours to Isfahan stopping at the small village of Abyaneh. Abyaneh is a beautiful historic village at the foot of Karkass Mountain. This is one of Iran’s oldest villages – a village of living traditions, architectural styles (all in red clay), and an interesting example of human adaptation to nature.

- Arrive in Isfahan and check into the Abbasi Hotel, a converted caravanserai. The large double-storied caravanserai was originally constructed to house the student and professors of the college but was later transformed into a wonderful hotel where guests can drink tea inside a garden courtyard with the full view of the Madrassa Chahar Bagh’s magnificent yellow and turquoise dome.

- This evening enjoy a Persian buffet dinner served in the hotel courtyard.

APRIL 11: ISFAHAN  B, L, D

- After breakfast begin exploring Isfahan, perhaps the most beautiful of all Iranian cities. Begin with a visit to the Palace of Forty Columns, a charming pavilion used to receive dignitaries and ambassadors. Here the walls and ceilings are covered with frescoes and paintings and the superb wooden roof of the porch is painted with a series of geometrical decorations interspersed with flowers.

- From here walk to the immense Maydan-e Shah, or Imam Square. After consolidating his control, Shah Abbas I initiated one of the world’s grandest experiments in city planning, moving the capital from Qazvin to Isfahan in 1598 where it remained until 1722. Mosques, palaces, bazaars and public parks were built under the monarch’s personal supervision over the next thirty years. Visit the Lotfallah Mosque, constructed between 1603 and 1617 which served as a private chapel for the Imperial family.

- Stop at the Naseriyeh Madrassa to meet with clergy and discuss religious life in Iran.

- Enjoy lunch at the Bastani Restaurant, located in the heart of the bazaar. Afterward, enjoy additional free time in the bazaar.

- Return to the hotel mid-afternoon. Dinner is at a local restaurant.
APRIL 12: ISFAHAN  B, L, D

- This morning admire some of the five bridges crossing the, sadly dry, Zayendehrud River at Isfahan. Perhaps the most beautiful is the two-story Khaju Bridge which was constructed by Shah Abbas II in about 1650.

- After seeing the Bridge of 33 Arches, drive to the Armenian quarter of Isfahan. This dates from the time of Shah Abbas I who set up this colony of Christians from the town of Jolfa and named it New Jolfa. There are fourteen churches here and we have planned a walking tour beginning at the Bethlehem Church.

- Enjoy a private guided tour at Isfahan’s new Music Museum which showcases more than 300 instruments from around Iran, many unchanged from their depictions in centuries-old paintings or miniatures on display around the city’s historic sites. The visit will end with an intimate performance, where traditional love songs and Persian poetry are played by modern masters.

- Stop for lunch at the Hermes Café.

- After lunch continue by foot to the Vank Cathedral which was one of the first Armenian churches to be established in the Jolfa district after the Ottoman War of 1603-1605.

- Return to the hotel.

- Enjoy dinner at a lovely local restaurant – Shahrazd – within walking distance of the hotel.

APRIL 13: SHIRAZ  B, L, D

- Depart early this morning and drive about five hours to Naqsh-e-Rustam with its elaborately carved tombs.

- After a pleasant lunch visit Persepolis, the ceremonial capital of the Achaemenian Empire and one of the most spectacular archaeological sites remaining from the ancient world. The city was started by Darius I around the 6th century B.C. with work carried on by Xerxes and Artaxerxes for another 200 years until the city’s destruction by Alexander the Great in 330 B.C. Examine the site’s major ruins, including the Gate of All Nations, the Hall of a Hundred Columns, the Gate House of Xerxes and the Treasury. Persepolis is truly the symbol of ancient Persia, if not modern Iran.

- Enjoy dinner at the hotel this evening: Zandiyeh Hotel/Homa Shiraz.

APRIL 14: SHIRAZ  B, L, D

- Morning visit to the Eram Gardens. Built during the 19th century in a quadripartite Persian Paradise Garden structure, the garden and Qavam House, which is decorated with tiles featuring poems from Hafez, are set within the Shiraz Botanical Garden.

- Continue by foot through the fascinating bazaar of Shiraz to the citadel or Arg-e Karim Khan. The citadel was built in 1766 when Karim Khan invited the best architects and artists of the time to work on the design.

- Enjoy lunch at the delightful Shaterabbas Restaurant which serves superb Persian cuisine.

- After lunch visit the Tomb of Saadi. Born in 1213, he became one of the major Persian poets of the time, known not only in Persian speaking countries, but also in the west.

- End the day at the tomb of the celebrated poet Hafez which is located in a small garden. The poet lived in Shiraz his entire life (1300-1389) and is well known to Iranians.

- Return to the hotel late afternoon.

- Dinner this evening at the wonderful Haft Khan Restaurant.
